Project Description

The project is based on the identification of a lack of knowledge on specific issues of European project management in all participating countries throughout personal experiences, distributed questionnaires and numerous discussions. The project addresses this shortfall by elaborating an innovative train-the-trainer programme on European project management. The primary target group is trainers who are providing training and consulting services in European project management as well as implementation of the project management system. The train-the-trainer programme will provide this group with specific information and thereby enrich their training curriculum considering specific backgrounds needed for successful cross-border cooperation projects. The projects targets innovative qualifications, already important but more and more necessary for successful economic operations in a growing Europe, in the field of managing transnational projects by the development of unique and innovative European Project Management (EPM) training package. The project partners are going to use the original approach towards this development in the following way – trainers of Project Management (European and general) with different backgrounds and sectors, from six European countries will work together on the European Project management curriculum.
